SOUTH SHIVERS IN ICY EMBRACE

Phenominal Low Temperatures Throughout Country Yesterday.

FREEZING IN MANY STATES

Much Damage in Many Sections to Semi-Tropical Plants—Coldest Snap on Record in Several Sections.

New Orleans, Nov. 13.—Considerable damage was done the sugar and trucking industries in Louisiana and Texas by the unseasonable low temperatures of yesterday and today. Freezing weather extended as far south as the middle gulf coast today with the temperature 27 degrees as far south as Alexandria, La.

In a large part of the sugar belt cane is still standing in the fields and the cold snap came so suddenly that few planters had time or sufficient force to give any protection to the crop.

The cold came too late to do much damage to cotton except to injure the grade, but the high winds of yesterday stripped the scattered open bolls clean in some sections.

Increasing cloudiness is indicated for the west Gulf States tonight and Tuesday but the weather bureau promises a general rise in temperatures.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Atlanta is shivering in the grip of one of the coldest snaps experienced in November since 1887, when the mercury dropped to 16 degrees. At 7 o'clock this morning the official temperature was given at 22 degrees, a drop of 46 degrees since 7 o'clock A. M. Sunday.

The cold snap is thought to have caused little damage to cotton as most of the crop had been picked. A strong wind, however, preceded the drop of the mercury and in some sections cotton which had been left in the bolls was stripped and scattered through the fields.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 13.—With one exception cold weather records for the first half of November for the past 39 years were broken in Montgomery this morning. The temperature registered here by the weather bureau was 27. This is the lowest on record so early in the month except November 12, 1904, when a temperature of 26 was reached.

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 13.—The coldest weather Bristol has experienced this Winter came this morning when the mercury fell to 10 degrees above zero. This is unusually cold for Bristol at this season of the year.

New Orleans, Nov. 13.—Joseph A. Gonzales, aged 64, a fisherman, died at the door of his cabin on Lake Pontchartrain today as the result of exposure to the cold. The old man was caught by a trap door falling across his body early today and thus pinioned, died as a result of the cold. The minimum temperature here was 34.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Belated reports of the storm that swept over Middle Tennessee Saturday night and Sunday morning, reaching a climax in a cyclone at Joelton, this county are coming in today. In a number of towns houses were unroofed fences and wires blown down and corn fields leveled.

At Pulaski the fears of the people were accentuated by a blazing meteor and Lawrenceburg spent the night in darkness, the light wires becoming crossed with telephone wires and the current cut off to prevent a conflagration.

It is a coincidence that a storm of such extent in Tennessee should come during the voyage of the replica of the first steamboat to cruise down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. While the old "New Orleans" was steaming down the Ohio near the mouth the first of the earthquake shocks which formed Reel Foot Lake in West Tennessee occurred, the crew of the little boat witnessing the sudden disappearance of islands and shore lines and natural phenomena that left the people of the Middle West panic-stricken. The first of those shocks came on December 11th, 1811.

New York, Nov. 13.—The cold wave that chased into the Atlantic some of the balmiest Summer weather New York has ever enjoyed, tightened in its grip today and sent the mercury down to 24 degrees. This minimum records at 8 o'clock this morning meant a fall of 44 degrees since 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The gale on which the frigid weather rode into town continued today at 38 miles an hour. Few small boats ventured to sea outside New York harbor and reports of marine disasters are expected.

High winds have crippled wire service and the telegraph lines to the West are doing business under stress.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Intense cold claimed another victim here today, making the third since the Winter weather struck Chicago on Saturday night. William Johnston, 40 years of age, was found unconscious from the cold on a north side street and died in a police ambulance while being taken to a hospital.

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 13.—The Almendares team today defeated the Philadelphia Nationals by a score of 4 to 0.

STREE[illegible]LEANERS' STRIKE

Backbone App[illegible] to Have Been Broken Yeste[illegible],800 Strike-breakers Unde[illegible]lice Guard —Cleaning Streets

New York, Nov. 13.—The backbone of the street cleaners' strike appeared to have been broken today when a force of 1,800 strike-breakers under heavy police guard made substantial progress in ridding the streets of a five-days accummulation of health-endangering refuge.

Awed, apparently by the vigorous stand taken by the city authorities and the large number of police on guard, the strikers and their sympathizers ceased the riotous tactics and today's work was attended by practically no violence.

There were more strike-breakers working today than the normal number of drivers regularly employed.

Although the strike leaders said tonight that they had not given up the fight by any means, both Mayor Gaynor and Street Cleaning Commissioner Edwards said late today that they believed they had the situation well in hand.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.

Municipal League and Conference for Good City Government.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, called to order in the Jeffersonian auditorium this afternoon a small, but brilliant gathering of the vanguard of the delegates to the 17th annual meeting of the National Municipal League and the 19th National Conference for Good City Government, meeting in joint convention, which holds its full opening business session tomorrow.

The former president of the Chicago Municipal Voters' League at once introduced Mayor Richardson, who made a brief speech of cordial welcome spiced with sharp criticism of antiquated and cumbersome State legislative government of cities under which most municipalities, including Richmond, blunder along. He sketched the new plan of city government which conservative Richmond is about to try—an executive board of five selected men, separating the executive from the legislative departments of city government.

Mr. Fisher, with clear-cut eloquence, presented the president of the National Municipal League, William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, Ind., who inspired by the evident appreciation of his audience, delivered impressively his annual address, discussing "Effective Municipal Government."

Mr. Foulk spent last Summer in Frankfort-on-the-Main studying the actual administration of the government of that typical German city and his address outlined the results of his investigations, seeking to apply them to American city governments "the darkest stain," he said "upon our institutions."

The German people, the president believed, have developed through generations of experience and discipline the highest civic virtue in the world. Corruption and speculation are almost unknown, and interest, fidelity and skill in municipal government are the rule.

The encouragement of these requisite characteristics in American communities, Mr. Foulke thought, was among the duties of the league.

The speaker, naming Frankfort as the high water mark of municipal excellence, stated that its government was admittedly in principle in many ways paternal and even socialistic. It owns its public utilities, water and light plants, street railway, harbor works, operates a savings bank, a pawn shop, bath houses, an employment bureau, 8,552 acre fuel forest, a 30-acre vineyard, theatre, opera house, auditorium, real estate exchange, undertaking establishment, cattle yards, workmen's dwellings, and lesser institutions. It is, he declared, the cleanest, healthiest, prettiest and best governed city within his acquaintance.

Frankfort is a combination of the American city and county. The Regierung, or board of supervisors, governing Frankfort is composed of a president appointed by the King of Prussia, an expert in municipal government, appointed after examination and four lay members chosen by the assembly of the province.

The States Regierung supervisors as a board of reference, the legislative and executive activities of the city's own elective municipal board of 12 paid and 13 unpaid members and representative assembly of 64 members all under a salaried burgomaster and salaried vice burgomaster.

Secretary Fisher will return to Washington tomorrow, he says, being unable to remain throughout the four day convention, because of pressure of official business.

FIFTY PERSONS RESCUED.

After Struggle With the Elements for Nearly Thirty Hours.

Astoria, Ore., Nov. 13.—Rescued from death after a struggle with the elements for nearly 30 hours, 50 persons on the schooner Washington, which struck the Peacock spit yesterday, tonight reached Astoria on the released ship, in tow of the Columbia bar tug Taloosh. During a lull in the gale today, Capt. Bailey ran the Taloosh in close to the Washington and got a line aboard. Hundreds of persons, who had gathered on the beach in the early morning hours and watched the vessel all day momentarily expecting to see her crushed on the rocks near Northhead and her passengers and crew swept into the sea, cheered the Taloosh as it drew the schooner safely into deep water.

A great cheer went up likewise from the joyful passengers huddled on the Washington's deck.

SOUTHERN TRAIN LEAVES THE TRACK

Seven Cars of New York Limited Turned on Their Sides.

ENGINEER KINNEY KILLED

Several Trainmen and Passengers Injured—More Deaths Narrowly Averted—Steel Cars Saves Many Lives.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 13.—Engineer W. A. Kinney, the last of four brothers to be claimed in railway wrecks, was killed and several trainmen and passengers were slightly injured near here today when the southbound New York, Atlanta & New Orleans Limited on the Southern Railway was derailed. Seven cars left the track and turned on their sides. The escape of the passangers is attributed to the fact that all the cars were of steel construction.

The accident occurred while the train was running about 65 miles an hour and was caused by a spreading rail. Fortunately, the cars turned toward an embankment. Had they turned to the other side they would have toppled into a ravine and the loss of life undoubtedly would have been great.

Among the most seriously injured are Ed Towns, fireman, of Spencer, N. C.; A. M. Shaw, Charlotte; R. F. Arrington, negro porter; D. Line, Baltimore, and Henry Mowyer, Greensboro. These, with the passengers, were brought here on a special train.

PROTECT PRICE OF COTTON.

Attorney General Responds to Request of Congressman.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Responding to a request by Representative Aiken, of South Carolina, that the Federal government, undertake the prosecution of "bears", who, it is alleged, are engaged in depressing the price of cotton to the financial detriment of the Southern producer, Attorney General Wickersham frankly admits he does not understand the workings of a "bear pool" or how much a combination could operate in restraint of commerce.

In correspondence made public today, it is stated by the attorney general that he has no tangible evidence of the existence of any such pool, and requests Mr. Aiken to furnish him with any detailed information he may have indicating a combination formed for the purpose of depressing the price of the South's great staple. The government's future course in connection with all corners, Mr. Wickersham intimates, will be governed largely by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the pending case against alleged "bulls" charged with cornering cotton to increase its price.

"If the court shall decide the essential question involved," he says, "and not let the case go off on a technical matter of pleading, we may have some light which will be of aid in the enforcement of the law against other combinations of a like character.

Mr. Aiken declares that if the government had the legal right to proceed against a combination of speculators whose purpose was to force up the price of cotton, it has the same legal right to prosecute a combination seeking to depress the price of the same commodity.

"It is certain," he adds, "that 'bear' pressure on Wall Street has forced a decline of fully three cents per pound in the present market, thereby robbing the South of approximately $105,000,000 and giving it to foreign spinners. This decline has been brought about by the bear element overselling the market, publishing false or misleading statements and combining to keep buyers out of the market."

The attorney general agrees with Mr. Aiken on the general proposition that if cornering a product which is dealt in interstate commerce for the purpose of increasing its price, is illegal, similar cornering for the purpose of depressing the price is likewise illegal.

The formation and operation of a "bull" corner to increase the price of a commodity, he adds, is clear, but he does not understand by what process a "bear pool" is organized and conducted.

"Moreover," he continues, "it is not quite clear in my mind how such a 'bear pool' can operate to restrain interstate commerce."

ON TRANS-CONTINENTAL FLIGHT.

Aviator Robert G. Fowler Arrived in El Paso Yesterday.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 13.—Aviator Robert G. Fowler arrived today on his trans-continental flight, after a delay of eight days, stalled in the sand near Mastodon, N. M.

Fowler performed a new feat in aviation by flying from the deck of a sand car on the El Paso & Southwestern Railway. He narrowly averted a collision with a freight train by throwing on high speed and rising rapidly as he dashed toward the train. He grazed the tops of the cars, but his machine was not damaged.

"I will leave El Paso on Tuesday," the aviator said tonight. "I will fly to Fort Worth and Dallas and thence to New Orleans. From there I will try to go up the southern coast to New York."

The aviator now has covered 850 miles since leaving Los Angeles.

COMING SESSION OF CONGRESS

Tariff Revision an Issue of Much Importance—Other Important Legislation as Seen by Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law at the coming session of Congress is to be undertaken in earnest by Democrats of the House, according to a declaration today by Representative Henry, of Texas, ranking member of the committee on Judiciary.

Representative Henry's announcement came while President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham were in conference at the White House as to the advisability of supplemental trust legislation. The House Democrats, it was declared at the Capitol, will push legislation along this line, whatever may be the administration's determination in the matter.

In addition to the anti-trust legislation the Judiciary Committee also has decided upon revision of the injunction statutes and the laws regulating indirect contempt cases.

"The coming session of Congress is by no means to be overshadowed by tariff legislation," said Representative Henry, in speaking of the plans of the Judiciary Committee. "Of course, the tariff revision will be of great importance, but it will not minimize other problems before the House."

Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who has been conferring with Representative Henry and other members during the recess, is expected in Washington within a few days when work already begun on the bill amending the Sherman law, will be resumed. Efforts of the committee will be directed chiefly toward elimination from the statute of the "rule of reason" as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

A law providing trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt of court and modification of the injunction restrictions are regarded by the Democratic leaders as essential to fulfillment of the party pledges as expressed in the platform of the Denver Convention.

DECREE OF DIVORCE GRANTED

Wife of Booth Tarkington, Novelist and Playwright

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.—A decree of absolute divorce today was granted in the Sup[illegible] Court of this county to Mrs. Louisa Fletcher Tarkington, wife of Booth Tarkington, the novelist and playwright. Mrs. Tarkington had not asked for alimony.

In its decree the court said the matter of compensation to Mrs. Tarkington had been satisfactorily arranged in a private agreement.

Mrs. Tarkington in her complaint alleged that the defendant treated her with cruelty and that they had lived apart for the last several months. Mr. Tarkington did not enter resistance to the suit.

Mrs. Tarkington later made public this signed statement:

"In justice to both of us I will say that I fully acquit Mr. Tarkington of any intentional unkindness to me. The differences between us are of temperament and habit, and after nine years of effort it is apparent to both of us that we cannot reconcile our views of life. The fact that we have not been able to come to the same viewpoint does not mean that either of us approve of divorce for any light reason."

Mrs. Tarkington is the daughter of the late Stoughton J. Fletcher, a wealthy banker and capitalist of this city. She is a writer of verse and has contributed it to the magazines.

SEMINOLE COMPANY AGAIN.

Verdict of Lower Court Sustained—Prisoners Must Serve.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 13.—Affirming the verdict of the Richland county circuit court, the Supreme Court of South Carolina today upheld the conviction of John Y. Garlington and J. Stobo Young, president and secretary, respectively, of the Seminole Securities Company on a charge of breach of trust. Garlington was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and Young to one year's imprisonment.

The specific charge on which the conviction was secured in January, 1910, was that Garlington and Young appropriated to themselves $55,596 belonging to the Seminole Company.

OUTLINES.

The Virginia Supreme Court has refused to grant Henry Clay Beattie, sentenced to die this month for the murder of his wife, a new trial. 31ST. CONVENTION FEDERATION LABOR

Hosts Gather at Atlanta for Thirty-First Annual Convention.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS' REPORT

Governor Hoke Smith and Others Deliver Addresses of Welcome—Continued Support of McNamara Brothers.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Labor hosts, gathered here today for the 31st annual convention of the American Federation of Labor met with a chilly reception. The coldest weather in years made it impossible to heat the big convention hall to the point of comfort and with chattering teeth, the local speakers prefaced their addresses of welcome to the visiting delegates with an apology for failing to make good on their alluring promises of flowers and sunshine, last year at St. Louis.

President Gompers read his annual report at the afternoon session, which was given over almost entirely to the reception of reports of executive officers.

Most significance of all the day's utterances was that of Mr. Gompers in responding to the addresses of welcome by Governor Hoke Smith, Mayor Courtland S. Winn and others, when he declared that he, Secretary Morrison and Vice President John Mitchell were ready to go to jail in defense of labor's rights in the event the contempt sentence of Justice Wright, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was sustained.

"Justice Wright either intended to crush the Federation or break our spirit," said Mr. Gompers. "He has done neither. The Federation will continue to grow and aid in the uplift of humanity."

All the contested delegates to the convention were seated on recommendation of the credentials committee.

Richmond, Va., is making a strong bid for the 1912 convention, but it is generally understood among the delegates that the next meeting will go to the Pacific coast, probably Los Angeles.

With the preliminaries over, the convention is ready to get down to business tomorrow.

Resolutions advocating legislation important to the labor cause at the approaching session of Congress are being prepared for introduction.

The Federation voted unanimously to instruct President Gompers to send a message to the McNamara brothers, in jail at Los Angeles, charged with dynamiting the Times building in which 21 lives were lost, that the members of the organization are firm in the belief that they are innocent and assuring them of their continued support.

The action followed the reading of a telegram from the McNamaras, which, after extending greeting, said:

"Permit us to sincerely thank the Federation officials and through the representatives of the affiliated organizations and departments, for their untiring efforts in our behalf."

RECEIVE BLOW.

Moving Picture Show Promoters Are Hit by Court.

Washington, November 13.—Moving picture show promoters received a blow today when the Supreme Court of the United States decided that moving pictures based on the scenes of a copyrighted book may constitute an infringement of the copyright on the book or the reserved rights to dramatize.

The court's decision was announced in a contest over the copyright of General Lew Wallace's named book, "Ben Hur." The copyright was owned by Harper & Brothers, book publishers. This company granted to Klaw & Erlanger, of New York, the sole right of producing a dramatization of the story.

"It appears that the Kalem Company employed a writer to read the story and write a description of certain portions of it, and that from this a moving picture film was produced. The Federal courts of New York held that the Kalem Company was a contributory infringer not of the copyrighted book or drama but on the author's exclusive right to dramatize his writings and permission to perform that dramatization to the Kalem Company was enjoined from continuing to produce or sell the films.

The Supreme Court today affirmed this action in an opinion by Justice Holmes.

WOULD BE ILLEGAL.

Is Ruling of Magistrate Regarding Championship Contest.

Birmingham, Eng., Nov. 13.—A magistrate in the police court today ruled that the proposed contest between Owen Moran and Jem Driscoll for the lightweight championship of England would be a prize fight within the meaning of the law and therefore illegal. He bound Moran and Driscoll to keep the peace. This decision is regarded in sporting circles as practically equivalent to a death blow to boxing in England, unless it is reversed by a higher court, to which an appeal will be taken immediately. The fight was to be held in December for a purse of $10,000.

HENRY BEATTIE'S LOST HOPE

Supreme Court Refuses to Grant Appeal—Last Hope Unless Governor Takes Action—Prisoner Retains Iron Nerve

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—By refusing today to grant an appeal in the case of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., convicted in Chesterfield county on September 8th for the murder of his wife, the Virginia Supreme Court takes away from the condemned man his last hope of escaping execution on November 24th unless Governor Mann should interfere. While declinig tonight to comment on the court's ruling, Governor Mann announced that he will issue a statement tomorrow after a conference with Beattie's lawyers, who are still fighting desperately in his behalf. There is a bare possibility that the Governor will grant a brief respite, although this is by no means certain.

Contrary to the expectation of lawyers generally, the Supreme Court filed no written opinion giving its reason for not allowing an appeal. In the presence of the entire court Chief Justice James Keith made his official statement to the clerk:

"The Supreme Court, being of the opinion that the judgment of the lower court in the Beattie trial are planly right, dotn refuse the petition for a writ of error."

Seventeen bills of exception were filed with the higher court by Beattie's counsel. Cases were cited in an attempt to show that in the closing address to the jury Prosecutor Wendenburg had erred in his demand that Virginia should open the graves of all murderers hanged heretofore and apologize to their bones if Beattie should be permitted to go free.

Early this afternoon H. C. Beattie, Sr., went to the penitentiary and was escorted to the death chamber where he in a faltering voice notified his son that the appeal had been denied. The prisoner's iron nerve did not desert him. He did not seem to feel or comprehend its meaning, but endeavored manfully to comfort his old father whose grief was intense.

MONUMENT TO VETERANS

Erected In Honor Massachusetts Veterans at Petersburg, Va.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 13.—Fragments of the armies of the Blue and Gray, who fifty years ago opposed each other on the battlefield, today shoulder-to-shoulder witnessed the unveiling of a shaft of granite erected at the crater by the State of Massachusetts, in honor of its soldier and sailor dead of the Civil War. The veterans surrounded a stand upon which were Governors Foss, of Massachusetts, and Mann, of Virginia, and their staffs, Colonel James Anderson, chairman of the Massachusetts Monument Commission, who presided; J Stearns Cushing, of the Massachusetts executive committee, and others. The flag draping the monument was drawn aside by Miss Otelia Mahone McGill, of Pittsburg, granddaughter of General William Mahone, who led the Confederate charge upon the crater June 30th, 1864 when it was re-taken by the Confederates.

The exercises at the monument were preceded by a parade in which the two Governors, their staffs, veterans and sons of veterans of both the North and the South marched to the crater.

The oration was by Senator A. S. Rose, of Worcester, Mass. Both Governors and J. Stearns Cushing also spoke.

Governor Foss could not attend the banquet tonight in honor of the Massachusetts party. He left for Boston at 7 o'clock. The Massachusetts party will leave for home tomorrow, spending a day each in Richmond, Washington, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Pa., where Saturday another Masaschusettes monument will be dedicated.

AFFAIRS IN PERSIA

Encroachment Upon Independence By Russia and Great Britain

London, Nov. 13.—Affairs in Persia have reached a stage which promises further encroaching upon that Kingdom's independence by Russia and Great Britain. Since their agreement dividing the country into spheres of influence, thees two nations appear to have worked in harmony in the direction of gradual absorption.

"If Russia enforces her ultimatum by occupying a part of the north Great Britain is likely to take a corresponding step in the south. Russia's ultimatum which was presented to the Persian government more than a week ago declared that unless apologies were made for the alleged insult to M. Petroff, the Russian vice consul, on the occasion of the seizure of the property of Shu Es-Sullaneh and Persia made other preparation, Russia would occupy two of the provinces in the north.

Last weeek the Russian troops north, it is reported, were augmented by strong reinforcements. At the same time two regiments of Indian troops were landed at Bushire, a seaport city on the Persian gulf, nominally to guard British consulates in the south, although there is no apparent need for such forces.

New Cabinet Not Yet Formed

Teheran, November 13.—The head of the Russian section of the Persian foreign office today informed the Russian minister that as the new cabinet had not yet been formed it was impossible for the government to reply immediately to Russia's renewed demand for an apology in connection with Petroff affair.

PEKING THE SCENE OF MUCH ACTIVITY

Government Continues to Gather Manchu Troops About the City.

IMPERIALISTS JOIN REBELS

Imperialist Gunboats at Hankow Have Also Gone Over—One Hundred Foreigners Reported Leaving Chung King

Peking, Nov. 13.—Yuan Shi Kai, the last prop of the throne, has reached Peking last night. He came today accompanied by 2,000 troops and was warmly greeted by the administration. In honor of his arrival an edict was issued appointing him commander of all the troops in the vicinity of the capital.

Great efforts are being made to induce him to accept the premiership, but he has given no definite answer yet.

The National Assembly today discussed the immediate opening of parliament but decided it would be inadvisable. The matter was referred to a committee which will consult with Yuan Shi Kai. The opinion is held at the legations that there are serious complications in store for China and greater sufferings than she has yet endured. The prospects of foreign intervention by other powers than Russia and Japan are beginning to be discussed. Winter is expected to terminate the massed movements of troops, but there will be greater death rolls through famine, even in Chi-Li province. The people in the central section are already supplementing their food with the bark of trees.

The government continues gathering Manchu troops at Peking but soon will be unable to meet the payments. It is not believed here that the Chinese can mobolize a large enough army about Peking to venture an attack, but the government's inability to collect revenues from a single provincial capital is almost certain sooner or later to bring about capitulation.

A report reached here today that 2,000 Imperialists at Hankow have joined the Rebel ranks and that the remaining Imperial gunboats at that port have gone over to the Rebels. According to a consular report the Hankow consuls with one exception at a recent meeting agreed that it is impossible for the Imperialists to capture Han-Yang or Wu-Chang. They therefore discussed the question of asking the government to withdraw the Imperial troops to the north, because when the commissary is empty they are likely to commit depredations and endanger the foreign concessions.

Certain military attaches at Peking consider that the Imperial troops at Hankow will be lost to the government unless brought back immediately but the government might prefer to leave all but the Manchus there, not undertaking the risk of transportating them back to the capital.

The November Boxer indemnity has not been paid and the December indemnity likewise will be defaulted. Even should the government be cabled to recover the five provinces immediately surrounding the capital, the financial administration cannot be organized before defaults of other debts besides the indemnities occur, and it is feared that intervention for the collection of pledged revenues cannot be averted.

The American consul at Chung-King, Albert W. Pontius, informs the legation that nearly one hundred foreigners are making ready to leave Chung-King for Shanghai. Of these 31 are Americans.

General Chao Erh-Hsun, the viceroy of Manchuria, who has been elected president of the province under the declaration of autonomy, has sent a message to the government that he was unable to oppose the Mukden assembly's declarations, which are:

First, That the revenues shall be retained by the province, which will have no connection with the Peking government, old or new; second, that the province will assist neither the Chinese nor the Manchu soldiers; third, that the government will afford the fullest protection to foreigners.

The Rebels took over Chee-Foo quietly today. General Chang Shao-Tsen, commander of the Lanchau troops, has arrived at Tien-Tsin with a body guard of thirty men. He is lodging in the foreign concessions.

Wu Ting Fang Wires Address.

Shanghai, Nov. 13.—Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, who recently was appointed secretary of foreign affairs under the proposed reformed administration, has telegraphed a long address to Peking urging the regent, Prince Chun, to abdicate. He points out that since the Emperor's edict admitting responsibility for present conditions and promising reforms, there has been an atrocious massacre and ten provinces have severed themselves from the throne without a struggle.

Wu Ting Fang adds that nothing but the adoption of republicanism can bring peace and stop the shedding of blood. The regent, he says, should emulate the example of the ancient emperors, Yao and Han, who abdicated after choosing the best available substitutes. Dr. Wu promises that if the regent wakes up and works for the republic the citizens will respect and support him in a style compatible with his birth, inasmuch as the peace and safety of the Manchu clans are not excluded from the National aims.

The appeal concludes: "Our voice is hoarse and our tears exhausted. No more can be said."

Rumors are current tonight that Admiral Sah's fleet at Hankow has either surrendered or been overcome by the revolutionaries.

Capture of Peking Reported.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Hong Kong is in the hands of the revolutionists and the province of Chi-Li has proclaimed its independence, according to advices received today from Shanghai by a local Chinese newspaper. The capture of Peking again is reported. A cable from Hong Kong says that the body of volunteer soldiers escorted a committee led by Wu Han Min, who is also the acting government head, to Canton today. There was rejoicing among the people. Imperial officers are said to have looted the public treasury.

Hong Kong, the message continues, is preparing to celebrate tomorrow the formation of the new independent government of Canton.

THE FIG MOTH.

How to Eradicate Dreaded and Most Destructive Insect.

Washington, Nov. 13.—"The Fig Moth" contains interesting information to fig growers, showing as it does how to eradicate this dreaded and destructive insect. Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture made a number of experiments on how to destroy this little enemy of this delicious fruit, a number of which proved successful. The locations in the United States in which the fig moth is known are Milton, Mass; Washington, D. C.; New York City; Milwaukee, Calla, O.; Hershey, Pa.; Guthrie, Okla.; Wichita, Kan.; Miami, Fla.; New Orleans and Lake Arthur, La.; Galveston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Sherman, San Antonio, New Braunfels, Wichita Falls, Beaumont, Houston, McKinley and El Campa, Texas.

The methods of prevention and destruction given for the eradication of the moth by the bulletin are:

Prompt disposal or destruction of the useless June fig crop.

Covering the figs at night while on the "serghi."

Closely screening the fig "depots" in the interior.

Prompt delivery of the figs to the "khans" after gathering.

Destruction of the "worms" in the "khans" by "sterilization," by hot water, dry heat or steam.

Fumigation by means of carbon bisulphid in special fumigation structures, made as nearly gas-tight as possible.

Fumigation by means of hydrocyanic acid gas.

Construction of the "khans" in the future so that they can be made gas tight for the purpose of fumigating.

Enactment of special regulations or legislation to secure the enforcement of the suggestions made.

Clean methods of handling and storing at all times and in all places.

PURE FOOD INQUIRY.

Something of What Bureau of Chemistry Has Been Doing.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The inspection force of the Bureau of Chemistry, Department of Agriculture, collected 9,500 official samples of foods and drugs during the past fiscal year, of which 3,280 interstate samples were found to be legal and 3,113 misbranded or adulterated, while 503 check analyses were made to insure that correct results were obtained before recommending action on the samples. In connection with this work 5.270 hearings were held, less than half being by correspondence. There were 96,129 floor inspections made of imported products, of which over half were made at New York. A total of 9,698 imported foods and drugs were analyzed at these ports, of which number 3,085 were adjudged adulterated or misbranded and 1,268 were released without prejudice to future shipments. The miscellaneous samples examined at the branches aggregated 1,406, making a total of 18,000 samples.

MRS. SCHENK CASE.

Called in Court at Wheeling, W. Va., Yesterday—Postponement.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 13.—The case of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk whose trial on the charge of administering poison to her millionaire husband, John O. Schenk, resulted in a disagreement, was called in court today and continued for the third time. Absence of the public prosecutor was the cause of the postponement. It is reported that the case will again be called within a few weeks when, it is said, the indictment will be nolled, or continued until the divorce suit of Mrs. Schenk has been settled.

Washington, Nov. 13.---Dainty flight gowns and lingerie were examined by the Supreme Court of the United States today to determine the question of whether the articles commercially known as "feather-stitch braids" were dutiable as braids of at the lesser duty on bindings. The fluffy exhibits peeped from a bundle on the lawyer's table during the argument, but the attorneys in the case did not display to the court. Instead they sent them to conference room for the individual inspection of the justices.

"The Boheamian Girl"

Tomorrow night the Academy of Music will offer one of its most notable events of the season in the Aborn's massive production of "The Bohemian Girl," with a cast of upwards of one hundred and a number of trained horses used on the stage. Seats for the event go on sale at Plummer's this morning, with the scale running to $2.

Judging the attraction by the high praise lavished by the press of Norfolk is in every way a gigantic one and of superb merit. From the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot of Saturday comes the following:

"That the love of good music is not dead in Norfolk was shown by the large audience, which took advantage last night of the first opportunity theatre-goers here have had in some seasons to hear opera and packed the Academy of Music for the opening performance of "The Bohemian Girl" by the Aborn Opero Company.

"The production deserved the large attendance, and it received with enthusiasm that extended into prolonged applause and a continual demand for encores.

"In 'The Bohemian Girl' William Michael Balfe put to music a skillful plot that was devised by Alfred Bunn. The story itself is romantic and intensely interesting, but the beauty of the music constitutes the real charm of this opera which never will grow stale.

"Unlike the many light operas of today, 'The Bohemian Girl' does not depend upon one tuneful number for its popularity. There are melodies in it that will linger long after the popular airs of the present day are dead. Each scene has its principal number. There is the titling Gypsy chorus, the 'Dream of Marble Halls,' the 'Heart Bowed Down by Weight of Woe,' and the 'Then You'll Remember Me' songs that we have heard since our childhood and remember always.

"As presented last evening the opera was faultless. A wealth of scenic effects was used and in the ballot numbers and ensemble unusual features were brought into play that cloaked the production with an atmosphere of realism which transported one into the heart of the Austrian mountains with the nomads around whom the story is built.

"Spectacular scenes are unusual for the touring opera company, but they abound in the Aborn presentation and the audience, at first surprised by the pretentiousness of the scenes, gradually awakened to the spirit of the piece and grow enthusiastic.

"The principals all were in good voice and sang with a life that brought out all the beauty of the score. Miss Blanche Morrison, in title role, scored a decided hit. Her voice is a rarely sweet soprano and she used it with great effect. And aside from her singing, she has an attractive stage presence and the ability to act.

"Harry Luckstone's portrayal of Count Arnheim and the work of John R. Phillips, as Thaddeus were excellent. Mr. Luckstone's baritone is not of astonishing strength, but it has a richness of tone that won instant favor while Mr. Phillips, handicapped by a slight cold, sang the tenor role wonderfully well. Saul Roselle is a capital Devilshoof and Mary Louise Rogers was warmly applauded as the Gypsy Queen.

"The chorus is exceptionally well voiced and is evenly balanced in male and female members, totalling about forty.

"The piece is magnificantly staged and during its action several specialties are introduced to give realism. The scape of Devilshoof with the Baby Arline is accomplished mounted with a squad of mounted dragoons pursuing up a steep and winding runway, and the carnival scene is enlivened by the appearance of a troop of dancing Arabs who are capital. In the palace scene the Dance of the Hours, from 'La Giaconda,' is beautifully executed."

At the Bijou

Another big and glorious week is on at the popular Bijou. Yesterday the attractive and ever-cozy Bijou (no matter the style of the weather) sheltered immense sized audiences, that were delighted with the splendid bill. In fact, it was one of the most successful week's inauguration the Bijou has ever made, and it seems to foreshadow another week of gigantic attendance, as well as big artistic triumph, both according to Bijou history. The bill for today is going to be a hummer, as comedy will play a large part. The stirringly dramatic will not be side tracked by any means, and neither will there be lack of novelty, while there will, of course, be plenty of new catchy music, but fun is going to predominate.

Among the bright particular films will be "Jack's Umbrella." It's a corker and while it is side-splitting it is thoroughly human nature. Jack loses his umbrella, thinks himself robbed and therefore advertises for it and declares the thief is known but "no questions will be asked" if the stolen property is returned. Next morning the front porch at his house is full of umbrellas and policemen arrest everyone they see with an umbrella. There are many more complications. It's a yell from start to hot finish.

The Grand.

Never before was the high esteem in which he is held in Wilmington more forcibly demonstrated than on yesterday when Mr. Morgan opened a return engagement at the popular Grand Theatre by the standing room crowds that packed the theatre at every performance both afternoon and evening. This proved beyond doubt the claims that the management have been setting forth that "Happy Harry Morgan" is Wilmington's favorite singer. Mr. Morgan had the honor of opening this theatre with an engagement of several weeks last Winter, and the news of his return was received with delight by many who have made it a regular habit "going to the Grand." For today he will sing "Billy," a new popular song, beautifully illustrated. The pictures will lead with a Biograph production, "The Trial of Brooks," portraying how a reconciliation was brought about between man and wife. This will be followed by "Tommy's Rocking Horse" an interesting scenic picture, followed by another one equally as good.

NEWS BUDGET FROM RALEIGH

North Carolina's Fight Against the Freight Discrimination—Dr. Moncrief's Successor—The New Theatre

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 13.—Chairman Franklin McNeill and Secretary A. J. Maxwell, of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, have gone to Washington to appear before the new Commerce Court in the appeal of the Norfolk & Western, the Southern and other railroad companies, from the order of the Inter-State Commerce Commision for the application for lower freight rates by the Norfolk & Western to the freight hauls from western points through Virginia cities to Winston-Salem and Durham in this State. They were accompanied by Attorney General T. W. Bickett, who will take a hand in the contest in the effort to ustain the order of the Commission, which gives to Durham and Winston-Salem very considerable reductions in rates. This is the suit that the North Carolina Commission brought and won before the inter-State Commission which held that the reductions ordered for the two North Carolina points would not effect necessarily rates to any other points on other roads. At the same time the North Carolina Commission made it clear to the Southern Railroad Company that it would contend for similar concessions by the Southern to Greensboro, and this caused the Southern to join with the Norfolk & Western in the fight against the Durham and Winston-Salem rates. The North Carolina Commission, in fact, has taker the ground that this Durham and Winston-Salem order is the opening wedge through which the long standing fight of North Carolina towns for gateway rates enjoyed by Virginia cities can be won.

Twelfth District appeals will be called in the Supreme Court for argument Tuesday morning in the following order: State vs. Arlington; Joyner vs. Harris; Phifer vs. Commissioners; Refining Co., vs. Construction Co.; Dover vs. Manufacturing Co.; Phifer vs. Phifer; Wellman vs. Horn; Cotton Co., vs. Wilson and Town of Gastonia; Faith-Stafford Co., vs. Cotton Mills;; McCall vs. Sustair; H. J. Groves vs Insurance Co.; H. L. Groves vs. Insurance Co.; Commisioners vs. Bank of Gastonia; Watson ex parte.

In opening up the Country Club extension of the Raleigh electric car line, a fare of ten cents has been imposed for the service instead of five cents that was expected. The company has decided to charge five cents to the city limits and then five cents beyond. The company is opening up a big park just beyond the club and it is to be open by next Spring. The thing that the people are wondering now is whether the ten-cent fare will be still in force while the park is being operated. This kick relative to car fare is reviving the old dissatisfaction at Raleigh's not being accorded the concession of six fares for a quarter that prevails in most towns in this State for local service. The best concession that is now accorded here is twenty tickets "booked" for ninety cents.

H. E. Litchford, ex-Judge R. W. Winston and other leading citizens are behind a movement for providing Raleigh with a modern theatre or Academy of Music, one that under competent management will put Raleigh in the forefront in this part of the country in the matter of theatrical attractions. There is to be a public meeting very soon to launch and assure the success of the movement. The steady retrogade of theatrical attractions of interest of late here seems to be forcing the movement to save the reputation of the city in this respect as well as to relieve the city from its present condition as to theatricals that are unworthy of a "cross roads town" much les that of the capital city of a great State.

A charter was issued today for the Watkins Lumber Co., of Ellerbe, N. C., capital $50,000 authorized and $4,000 subscribed by W. H. Watkins, Sr., and others.

REMARKABLE RECORD.

Flesh-forming Food That Succeeds Nearly Every Time.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Wilmington as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated and fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. Statistics show that our of every one hundred people who commence the use of Samose, 98 will find a full gain in weight and restoration of health and strength.

Anyone who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and take home a box of Samose. If the treatment does not give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh and restore strength and health, they will return the money without any questions.

$200 REWARD FOR NEGRO.

William Henry Benton Wanted at Hamlet for Assault on Officer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Hamlet, N. C., Nov. 13.—Two hundred dollars is offered today as a reward for the arrest of William Henry Benton, the negro who so dastardly shot Officer D. D. Brown on the streets of Hamlet late Saturday night. Mr. Brown is still alive and has fighting chance to survive. He is at his home in West Hamlet under the care of a trained nurse. It seems that there was a negro dance in progress in one of R. E. Hinson's store rooms which is rented as a dance hall. The negro Benton came out of this place acting in a boisterous manner and was put under arrest by the policeman. The prisoner's hand being behind him, his captor attempted to search him. A glint of steel was mistaken for a knife and the man was released and struck by the officer. The negro produced a gun and shot before he could be struck again. The night was misty and escape was easy from the wounded man. Brown pluckily emptied five chambers of his revolver, but failed to hit.

The negro is coal black, five feet and a half high, 22 or 23 years old, has large head and wore bushy hair, walks a little bowlegged and probably had fresh wound on head, made by officer's stick. The reward is offered by the sheriff of Richmond county and the Mayor of Hamlet and will be paid to any man making the arrest. The fact that a man is an officer will not bar his enjoying the reward. Chief C. B. Wright is leaving no stone unturned to secure the assassin of his comrade.

SENATOR THROWN FROM BUGGY

Received Painful but Not Serious Injuries

New Orleans, Nov. 13.—"I have often been called a 'jack-ass,' but this is the first time I ever got into a horse hospital."—John Sharp Williams.

Senator Williams arrived in New Orleans early this morning from his home in Yazoo City, Miss., not a little shaken as the result of being violently thrown to the ground late yesterday when his horse ran away en route from his home to the station. His right side and face were badly scratched and a finger on his left hand was bandaged.

He found it necessary to have his wounds dressed here, but had just a few minutes between trains.

God's greatest gift to the South is its true and noble women. Men may show a yellow streak, but women —ne

GIVE US NET RESULTS.

Superintendent Laughinghouse, of the State penitentiary farm, reports that with convict labor he has during the past season produced 1,500 bales of cotton from 1,500 acres of land, produced a large crop of peanuts and "enough forage to last the State farm for two years." While that has been done, the State's lands have been improved, the Roanoke river has been dyked to avoid damage from overflow, and the farm stock and buildings have been improved. With its cotton worth about $60,000, and other advantages demonstrated, why is not the State farm in a position to demonstrate to us the possibilities of farming in eastern North Carolina?

We have not seen Superintendent Laughinghouse's complete report, but we have seen enough to know that the State farm, instead of being an expense to the State, like it was in Republican days, has turned in a profit to the State. We have often wondered, however, why the reports of such State officials are so indefinite. In fact, their reports may be more in detail but they are not so reported to the press.

Evidently Superintendent Laughinghouse has made money for the State on the convict farm. Why is it that we are not furnished with the net results—number of convicts employed in the operations, average planted in various crops, yields harvested and money value of the crops computed or estimated?

Superintendent Laughinghouse is a Pitt county man. He is both a statesman and a farmer. In charge of such as superintendent, there could be but one result—the best of management, honest administration and profit for the State. However, what do we know of the net results of the State's free labor farm?

When the Republicans were in power in North Carolina, and that meant disgrace and incompetency, we know that the State penitentiary became a stench in the nostrils of the people. The penitentiary got in debt, but we are rather inclined to believe that the State farms then made money. At any rate, the penitentiary management was a disgrace to the State, and the Democrats had to redeem it to make it a profit and credit to the State. Everybody in North Carolina ought to be a Democrat because the affairs of the State are so much better administered under Democratic administrations. We have never been able to conceive why there is a single Republican in North Carolina, when it comes to State issues, but in speaking of the penitentiary farm, we would like to know the net results—expenses, cost, and production. The Greenville Reflector, in speaking of Superintendent Laughinghouse's fine achievement, says:

"In speaking of this success and comparing it with former years—recalling that it has been no great while since this State farm was talked about as a losing proposition and looked upon as a stench, when now it is operated with large profit to the State—the question naturally arises as to what brought about this marked contrast. We believe the reason can be given in one word—management. In years gone by, and in the recollection of all of us, the State prison and farms have had as managers at different times a school teacher, a West Point graduate, a cotton buyer and two or three lawyers, neither of whom had any knowledge of how to conduct a farm, hence it is not surprising that under their management the farm proved a failure. The present governor had an eye to the fitness of things, so concluded that a real farmer was the right man to put in charge of a big farm if success was to come out of it, and in looking around for a suitable man for superintendent selected one in Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, who had already established his capabilities as a successful farmer. He carried his skill, his experience and his energy with him into the management of the farm, and to this the changed condition is attributable. While the present success of the State farm is a cause of gratification to every citizen of the State, The Reflector feels an especial pride in it because the man who has brought this about is a Pitt countian, one born and reared among us, one who lived on the farm and made his farm a success. If the men for all places of responsibility were selected because of their especial fitness for the position, there would be more success in administration."

We have been told that 1,500 bales of cotton were produced on 1,500 acres on the State farm, and that an indefinite amount of peanuts, forage and other crops has been produced, and we believe every word of it. We know it is true. We know the State farm is a success under Democratic management, but we don't understand why a detailed account of the operations and the net results are not made public when reports are given out. We want to know what it cost the State to make 1,500 bales of cotton on 1,500 acres of land, and also the money value of the other products in comparison with the expense. Why so much indefiniteness about such important matters?

We know that the State farm has been profitable to the State, but after all that has been said about it, we do not know what the actual net results are. Give them to us.

OUR POTASH DISCOVERIES

In spite of the rumors from Washington, endorsed by statements from Secretary Wilson, of the United States Department of Agriculture, to the effect that deposits of potash have been found in sufficient quantity in the United States to supply the demands of this country, it seems that New York fertilizer men are disposed to discredit the discoveries. Says the New York Paint, Oil and Drug Reporter, of October 13th:

"Local dealers do not seem to place much confidence in the various reports of potash discoveries in this country, and while business is quiet, it is not due to the fact that buyers are holding off with the hope of getting better prices as the result of finding native deposits. Prices are on the basis as previously given, and are:—Bag salt.—Muriate of potash, 80 to 85 per cent., basis 80 per cent., $38.05; muriate of potash, min. 95 per cent., basis 80 per cent., $40.15; muriate of potash, min. 98 per cent., basis 80 per cent., $41; sulphate of potash, 9. to 95 per cent., basis 90 per cent., $46.80; sulphate of potash, min. 96 per cent., basis 90 per cent., $47.35; double manure salt, 48 to 53 per cent., basis 48 per cent., $24.95 per ton of 2,000 pounds net, in bags of 200 pounds net weight. Bulk Salt.—Manure salt, min. .. per cent. actual potash, $13.50; hard salt, min. 16 per cent. actual potash, $10.85; kainit, min. 12.4 per cent. actual potash, $8.45 per ton of 2,000 pounds net. Cost, freight and insurance to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, New Orleans, Galveston; also cost freight and insurance to Norfolk, Wilmington (N. C.), Charleston, Savannah, Fernandina, Mobile, Pensacola, subject to being able to arrange full cargoes. Shipment from Germany during open river navigation in lots of at least 50 tons bag salt or 200 tons bulk salt until the end of December, 1911, as can be arranged by the equivalent in New York funds, net without discount in exchange for documents (upon their arrival in New York), German weights and analyses."

If it is true that the United States Geological Survey has discovered large deposits from which the various kinds of potash salts can be secured, it is hardly to be supposed that mining operations can be entered into at once to make them available. Even with deposits of known extent, it will require large capital to mine or manipulate them and it really may take several years before we can be independent of the German supply.

In the quotation from the Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter, mention is made of "open river navigation.' We have that kind of navigation in the South at all times, and when we appreciate it we will begin to recognize the great use to which we can devote our navigable streams for fertilizer distribution to the interior.

PIG CLUBS ARE ALL RIGHT

Boys' corn clubs, and girls' tomato clubs came along a few years ago to stimulate interest in corn growing and home canning, and now comes the "pig club" to encourage the production of pork at home. We don't know who originated the idea, but Editor George W. Brunson, of the Greenville (S. C.) News has been a pig club man for more than a year. His paper offered prizes and it will soon be time for hog-killing time, so we can hear the result of the organizations started in Greenville county for the purpose of encouraging the production of pork in his country.

The pig club idea has been tried in some sections of North Carolina and The Star would like to hear from them. We must not let South Carolina get ahead of us in the crusade for raising our own meat. Rock Hill, S. C., has a boys' pig club and the boys will receive first and second prizes of $25 and $15 in cash. Congressman Finley and the Rock Hill Record have offered prizes, but we presume it is only for the one club. There ought to be scores of clubs in a county and there should be prizes for the most successful pig raisers in each club. There should be prizes for the biggest pig and the most pigs, so the country will get the real benefit of the increased production of meat at home. Could it not be so arranged that every neighborhood could have its own boys' pig club and offer prizes that will make the boys take interest in this new kind of work?

Rampageous Rocky Mount. Rocky Mount is looking for a slogan.

CURRENT COMMENT.

This great big government of ours got after some speculators about a year ago for putting up the price of cotton. How much lower will the price of cotton go before that same great big government gets after somebody for putting down the price of the great money crop of the South?—Monroe Enquirer.

Greedy Greensboro, Woeful Wilmington, Spiteful Spartanburg, Capricious Charlotte papers are offering suggestions to Rocky Mount for a slogan. In spite of the fact that we told them "Rough and Ready Rocky Mount" was not eligible, they have suggested it. Well, go ahead boys and have your fun, our time is coming.—Rocky Mount Record.

The Florence farmer who leads in corn production, the best ten ears of corn, and the best single ear, is a woman. Mrs. Langston has made the record this year under government supervision, and we suggest that she has beaten the "Lords of Creation" because she was intent on her work, and then she had to beat Jerry Moore because what is a boy good for unless some good woman beats him?—Florence Times.

What is needed in the South is more white people, working people, people who know something about American institutions, the sort of people who have made the Northwest to blossom with an unnatural beauty and who live in inhospitable regions where there is a constant struggle for the things that are worth while when they might come here, and would come here, if they had the least enterprise, and cultivate the soil which laughs with abundant harvest once it is tickled with the hoe. We should welcome them! if they do not care to come however, we shall continue to grow fat on our own riotous richness.—Charlotte Observer.

Recent experiments on the Mississippi river have not tended to encourage the belief that waterways can compete successfully with railways. Not long ago the Streckfus Steamboat Line put on a steamer to operate between New Orleans and St. Louis stopping at river points. There was no question about there being enough water in the river. Navigation was all right, but no support was accorded the movement. The new line did not hurt the railroads a bit. Nobody seemed to want to take advantage of the reduced freight rates offered. So the line has been discontinued. The boat had made three trips and shown a loss of about $2,000 for each of them, which was a little more than the promoters could stand. "Fourteen Feet Through the Valley!" For what? Think of how many millions that undertaking would cost and the answer will be easy even to the uninitiated.—Charlestan News and Courier.

MANY WOMEN RUN DOWN

Mrs. Ewton Tells Her Story, And Hopes Other Sufferers Will Do As Well

Pine Bluff, Ark.—"For nearly nine years," says Mrs. M. E. Ewton, of this city, "I had been almost down with womanly troubles, and, at times, I could scarcely be about at all or do anything.

I took different kinds of medicines without any relief.

I had a pain in my side that it seemed impossible to relieve.

I used six bottles of Cardui, and now I feel like a different person. I am getting along fine. I can do any kind of work!

Cardui was the only thing that helped me. It is the best remedy I know for run-down women. I hope other sufferers will take Cardui and be benefitted as I have."

Do you suffer from some of the disagreeable symptoms of womanly trouble? Let Cardui help you back to health and strength, as .. did Mrs. Ewton.

Cardui has a record of over 50 years successful use to recommend it. Composed of strictly vegetable ingredients, imported especially from Europe for use in this remedy, Cardui does good that stays good, without any ill effects.

As a remedy for women's ills, those who have tried Cardui say .. has no equal.

Have you tried it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

SUBMIT NEW PROPOSALS

Wilmington Sewerage Company Virtually Repudiate Former Proposition, Which Had Practically Been Accepted

Virtually repudiating their former proposition submitted to the City Council through their local attorney, Iredell Meares, Esq., and disregarding the city's ultimatum on the single point at issue in that proposal which seemingly was otherwise acceptable to both sides, the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company yesterday submitted to the city three new proposals, suggesting that either would be agreeable to the... if the city desired to purchase the existing sewerage plant to be incorporated in a municipal system.

Impatient because of the useless delay already occasioned and having no asurance that the bondholders will not later recede from either of the three new propositions, the City Council in regular session this afternoon will probably vote to call off negotiations for the sewerage plant and may, if it is deemed advisable to secure the old plant at all, take the first step toward securing the existing system through the courts under authority of an act of the last Legislature pased, it has been openly charged, at the instance of the Wilmington Sewerage Company and drawn by its local attorney. The law may act as a boomerang, if the expressed intentions of several members of the Council are carried out.

Negotiations between the city and bondholders had progressed to the point where there was only one point of difference so far as the city was concerned and that was with regard to payment of the contractors for the extension to be made to the plant, the bondholders asking the right to insert in the advertisement that bonds would be offered the contractors instead of cash and the city insisting that the advertisement should contain no such provision. This is where the matter stood at the close of a conference in this city about ten days ago between a member of the bondholders' committee and his attorney and the City Council. The bondholders were to have considered the point at isue at a meeting in Philadelphia last Wednesday, and it was for their reply that the City Council have been waiting. Instead of the reply to the city's ultimatum on that point, came yesterday three new proposals, sent to Iredell Meares, Esq., local attorney for the bondholders, and a copy was mailed to City Attorney Herbert McClammy. The new propositions are as follows:

"1. To submit the question of the value of the present plant to a legal arbitration under terms and conditions to be agreed upon, the city to pay the price for same or determined by the arbitrations, either in cash or its equivelant, the cost of same to be divided.

"2. Insomuch as the city cannot directly guarantee the bonds, would it consider the deposit of [illegible],000 of the city's 4 1-2 per cent. bids as security for the carrying out of the terms of the deed and agreement, which said $50,000 of the city's bonds should be returned to the city after $100,000 or the bonds of the company have been paid and discharged in accordance with the terms of the agreement.

"3. Or, would it consider a provision that the city should pay one-fifth of the entire costs of the new construction, amounting to not more than $48,000, the company to pay four-fifths or not more than $200,000 in cash; said payments to be made pro rata as the work progresses, and the payments become due according to the terms of the agreement. In this event the issue of bonds for new construction would be limited to $200,000 instead of $250,000."

In the hope that the Council would have a telegraphic reply from the bondholders of the city's ultimatum in time for consideration at the meeting this afternoon, City Attorney McClammy last night sent to the attorney for the bondholders in Philadelphia a lengthy reply to the three new proposals, setting forth that he would advise the Council not to accept either. The reply had the approval of Mayor Smith and at least one other member of the Council and it doubtless expresses the views of the other members.

In his letter City Attorney McClammy pointed out that should the city elect to arbitrate the matter that it could take advantage of the act of the last Legislature, which, he said in his communication, was passed at the instance of the Wilmington Sewerage Company. Mr. McClammy replied in detail and made it plain that the city has gotten to the point where it is immaterial whether the bondholders agree to anything.

The sewerage question has been hanging fire for two or three years or longer and it was only a few months ago that the bondholders were able to convince the city officials and others of the city that the plant had any value of consequence in connection with the proposed municipal system, and this change of sentiment was brought about largely through the efforts of Iredell Meares, Esq., local attorney for the bondholders, who had made a thorough study of the entire matter and presented it to the Council in a comprehensive manner, not once, twice or three times, but any number of times, until finally he secured favorable action on a proposition of the bondholders to sell the plant for $160,000 and to enlarge the plant to the extent of an additional $240,000, making a total of $400,000. The company agreed to issue bonds to cover the amount of the proposed extensions and was to give the city 40 years in which to pay the purchase price and the cost of the improvements. This proposition appealed to the Council primarily because it did not require any ready cash to make the deal, though it was later agreed to purchase $10,000 worth of the company's bonds and pay for them at the time of the delivery of the plant. The city has only about $135,000 left of the bond issue for the sewerage plant and members of Council realized that they could not purchase the existing plant on a cash basis and then be in position to make the required improvements, therefore, the proposition of the bondholders was accepted. Now that the bondholders have practically withdrawn the former proposition it is likely that the Council will resort to the courts to secure the existing plant at a valuation to be fixed by competent engineers to be appointed by the court for the purpose and that then some arrangements will be made by which the money can be had for enlarging the system.

The law relative to public utilities passed at the last Legislature provides that the appraisers shall be appointed by a Superior Court judge; that both sides have the right to nominate one man each and the two who are appointed are to nominate a third, who also is to be appointed by the court. If the third man is not acceptable to either side then the court may name the third man. Either side will have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court.

In his letter City Attorney McClammy points out that the city has not the legal right to give $50,000 of its bonds as collateral as suggested.

The matter will no doubt receive attention at the meeting of the Council this afternoon.

CAPE FEAR MARINE RAILWAY

Name of New Enterprise for Which Charter Has Been Applied—Will Operate at Old Skinner Ship Yard

Application has been made to the Secretary of State for a charter for the Cape Fear Marine Railway with an authorized capital stock of $100,000, the incorporators being among the leading business men of the city as follows: Messrs. James Sprunt, C. W. Worth, L. H. Skinner, J. S. Williams, H. C. McQueen, George Rountree, J. W. Harper and W. H. Chadbourn. When the certificate of incorporation is received a meeting will be held for the purpose of organizing and settling upon details of the business to be conducted by the company.

The stockholders are not losing any time pending the granting of the charter, but are going ahead getting ready to establish an up-to-date and thoroughly modern marine railway of sufficient capacity to accommodate the large vessels that come to Wilmington and machine shops. Practically all the stock in the enterprise has been subscribed.

The company will utilize the site of the old Skinner marine railway and the Darby property adjoining, the latter having recently been purchased by Mr. C. W. Worth for the purpose. Located on the city side of the Cape Fear river, at the foot of Grace street, on the A. C. L. belt line, the site is ideal for such a business and is easy accessible to all railroads as well as local patrons. The property has a water frontage of nearly two city blocks. Capt. L. H. Skinner, owner of the old marine railway, will begin this week tearing away and removing the old wharves and railway, and the Cape Fear Machine Works, which will be merged with the new corporation, will begin to remove its equipment to its new location and erect the necessary buildings for an up-to-date and modernly equipped machine shops.

The marine railway to be installed will be of the most improved type, being what is known as the Crandall marine railway of 1,000 tons capacity. The wharves for the railway and shops will be about 600 feet with the necessary width to take care of the business. The depth of water at this point is greater than at any other wharf in the port of Wilmington.

The Cape Fear Machine Works is now located at the foot of Grace street. This well-known company has been in business for seven years and has got one of the best equipped plants south of Richmond, Va., and enjoys the confidence and patronage of a large clientele. Mr. C. W. Worth, who has been president of the Cape Fear Machine Works since its organization, will be actively identified with the new company.

The stockholders in the new enterprise are prominent business men of the city and the fact that they are connected with the business is assurance that it will be a great success. It will begin under the most favorable auspices. It is understood that no time will be lost in completing the marine railway and machine shops and in a few months the big plant will be in operation.

Memorial Service Held

A special memorial service was held at Grace Street Methodist church Sunday evening, being led by Rev. J. C. Wooten, the pastor, who delivered a short but beautiful memoir of each member of the congregation who had passed away during the past conference year. Special and appropriate music by the choir was another feature. At the morning service Rev. Dr. N. H. D. Wilson, the presiding elder for the Wilmington district, delivered a masterful sermon on "Immortality," leading up to the night service. Both services were largely attended.

MADE THREE INSPECTIONS

Police Searched Suspected "Blind Tigers" Last Week—Found Quantities of Beer and Whiskey in Two of the Places

It was learned yesterday that the police during the past week have made inspections of three suspected near-beer saloons or "blind tigers," acting under authority given them by the so-called inspection ordinance passed by City Council some months ago, and that in two of the places searched quantities of beer and whiskey were found. The police worked in secret in order to better carry out their plans and the news of the inspections did not leak out until yesterday.

The places searched were those of Mr. W. H. Biddle, on Castle street; Mr. J. W. Capps, corner 11th and Market street, and Mr. J. E. Taylor, No. 603 South Eighth.

Mr. Biddle's place was inspected last Tuesday night by Chief of Police John J. Fowler and Officers A. A. Nelms, Frank George, D. W. Coleman and R. J. Thompson. The other two places were inspected Saturday night by the above named officers, with the exception of Chief Fowler, who did not accompany them.

All three of the men whose places were searched were among the number who were indicted by the grand jury at the last term of court for violating the prohibition law and it is highly probable that the findings of the police will be introduced as evidence in the cases against Messrs. Biddle and Taylor when they come up for trial. It is said that each of the indicted men hold, or did hold at the time of the indictment, a United States revenue license for the sale of beer or liquors, and this will also be used as evidence.

The "inspection ordinance" was passed by the City Council soon after the State law prohibiting the sale of near-beer become effective when the Council determined not to grant "malt" licenses. It gives the police the power to inspect the places of any persons holding United States revenue license for the sale of beer or spirituous liquors. So far there have been less than a half dozen inspections under this ordinance, so far as known.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Many Petty Cases for Opening Session of the Week.

A large and varied aggregation of penitents occupied the mourner's bench in the Recorder's court yesterday morning and the session was a lengthy and tiresome one. Most of the cases were of the petty order, drunks and disorderly conducts predominating, there being eight cases charging drunkenness and six disorderly conduct.

John Davis and Mosby Wilson, two dusky gladiators, were charged with an affray and found guilty. Davis was fined $10 and costs and Wilson $5 and costs. The affray terminated rather suddenly when Davis smote Wilson over the head with a bottle, thereby sadly upsetting that worthy's dignity and also doing much damage to the bottle, but little to the negro's cranium.

C. Edwards and George Ringwood, charged with an affray, were let off on the payment of costs. David Patterson and John Davis were each charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and each was dismissed.

Rebecca Norwood, charged with the larceny of a gold watch, fountain pen and hand bag, was found to be not guilty. James Williams, arrested for not paying street car fare, was declared not guilty. Dawson Jones, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was declared not guilty.

William Bridges, charged with a violation of the driving ordinance, was taxed the costs. J. G. Arnold was fined $10 and the costs for carrying a concealed weapon.

The following were fined as follows for disorderly conduct: Amelia Bradley, $5 and costs; Dawson Jones, $5 and costs; J. A. Garrell, $5 and costs; Alex Arnett, $5 and costs; Gordan McPhaler, $5 and costs.

Henry Hewett was fined $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly and a similar case against N. M.Parker was continued.

I. S. Davis was tried twice on a charge of drunkenness. He had been arrested and recognized and had gotten drunk again before he could be tried.

Seven other drunks contributed to the county's store of the coin of the realm.

WILL BE AN OPEN MEETING

Pythians Are Preparing for Big Rally Thursday Night

Members of the local lodges of the Knights of Pythias are busy making arrangements for the big Pythian rally to be held Thursday night of this week in Castle Hall in the Murchison National Bank building. In addition to the address of Rev. Frank James Mallett, of Salisbury, there will be musical selections, including several vocal solos. It will be an open meeting and the ladies are especially invited to attend. The committee announces that the ladies attending will receive a surprise. The committee is bending every effort to make it one of the biggest events in local Pythian circles in some time. It is expected that there will not only be a large attendance of local Pythians and their wives and other ladies of the city, but there will be a goodly number of Pythians from other points in the district.

SANDLIN TAKEN TO RALEIGH

Condemned Wife-Murderer Now at State Penitentiary, Where He is to Die in Electric Chair December 8th.

L. M. Sandlin, convicted of the murder of his wife in this city last June, and sentenced to die in the electric chair on December 8th, was yesterday taken to the State penitentiary at Raleigh by Sheriff S. P. Cowan and Deputy Sheriff W. Harvey Cox, who will see him placed behind the bars in the death row before they return to the city.

The condemned man was tried at the July term of Superior Court and found guilty of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Dora Sandlin, at her home in this city one evening in the latter part of June. Judge E. B. Cline, of Hickory, pronounced the death sentence and fixed the date for electrocution as October 13th. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appealed to the Supreme Court, and by the time this higher tribunal had ratified the findings of the lower court it was almost time for the execution. The appeal acted as a stay of sentence and on November 5th Governor Kitchin named December 8th as the date for the electrocution.

Sandlin was very calm and collected when seen by a few persons as he was waiting on his train. He stated that he was perfectly satisfied with the course that events had taken, saying, "God's will be done. Others may fear to travel this road, but I do not." He has accepted the inevitable with professions of perfect faith in God and some time ago, when he learned that the Supreme Court had found no error in his case, he stated that the punishment came for sins that he had committed earlier in life. He maintained up to the last that he loved his wife and that he did not know what he was doing at the time he killed her.

The murder followed a separation between Sandlin and his wife. Witnesses at the trial stated that they had heard him threaten to kill her and the evidence was very strong. Sandlin plead insanity, and in his charge to the jury Judge Cline instructed them to consider two issues, first as to Sandlin's sanity, and then, if they found him sane, the issue of murder. The jury was out only a short time and brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

FIRE AT SOUTHSIDE CHURCH.

House of Worship Damaged by Flames Yesterday Afternoon.

The most serious fire Wilmington has had in months occurred yesterday afternoon when a spark from the chimney ignited the roof of the Southside Baptist Church and the flames spread rapidly, doing damage to the amount of $200 before extinguished by the fire department. However, the damage is fully covered by insurance and repairs will be begun at once.

The alarm came in at 2:42 from box 56 and the department made all haste to get to the blaze. The flames had spread rapidly, but were soon under control after the firemen arrived and were completely extinguished in a short while. The damage from water was almost as much as the fire damage. A handsome new carpet, which has just been put in, was much damaged and the walls were damaged, too.

A fire had been started in the church in preparation for a meeting which was to have been held last night, when the missionary society was to have undergone a re-organization. On account of the damage to the church the meeting was postponed.

The fire left a good-sized hole in the roof and in case of a hard rain more damage would be sustained. The repairs will be started at once and it is hoped to have them finished before a rain.

Another slight blaze occurred yesterday, when the alarm came in from box 411. The house was No. 66 Wright street and was occupied by Mr. H. B. Hankins. The blaze started by a spark from the chimney. The damage was trivial.

TO TAKE RELIGIOUS CENSUS.

Work Started Yesterday and May be Completed This Week.

Plans for taking a religious census of the city were perfected at a meeting of the Ministerial Association held yesterday morning in the Y. M. C. A. parlors and the work will be done this week, being started after the meeting yesterday.

The city has been divided into ten districts and two ministers of different denominations will be in charge of each district. These ministers will appoint lay workers from their churches, who will assist in taking the census in that district. Reports of the names taken will be filed daily so that the complete report can be made up as quickly as possible.

It is planned by the association to secure an accurate register of the persons living in the city, the various churches they attend, or, if they do not attend any church, the denomination they prefer. The ministers feel that the work of taking the census will be a great aid to all the denominations and that the plans of each will be forwarded as a result.

A suitable card has been prepared for the use of the census takers and this will be a great aid to them. It is hoped to have the work completed by the end of the week.

More Petty Robberies.

It has been reported to the police that the residence of Mrs. Dunn, No. 305 North Fourth street, was entered early Sunday morning and the rooms of two young men who were boarders there, gone through. The robber or robbers, carried two pairs of pants down stairs and left them in the yard, after having secured the sum of $2.60 from the pockets. Mr. A. D. Ruark has reported that he lost at the ferry house across the river Saturday night a life belt, a pair of climbers, one set of buggy harness and a dark gray rain coat. The police have no clues to the perpetrators of either crime.

INTEREST IN ART EXHIBIT.

Splendid Pictures to be Shown at High School This Week.

The announcement in Sunday's Star relative to the art exhibit to be held at the High School auditorium from Thursday to Saturday, inclusive, has created much interest in the city and it is thought that the event will be largely patronized by the public-spirited and art-loving citizens of Wilmington.

Aside from the interesting features of the exhibit, it is instructive and educational as well. The admission fee is trifling and yet the school's percentage from this will be a great aid in helping them to purchase pictures for the building. Citizens are also invited to make contributions to the picture fund and also to purchase pictures, giving their orders through the school, by which arrangements they will be able to secure the pictures at a discount and at the same time the school will get a percentage from it.

In addition to the exhibition proper there will be shown a dozen or more samples of artistic framing of pictures, including pictures in colors, black and white, photogravures, etc.

Some of the best pictures presented by classes and individuals will be brought from the different schools and shown to the public for the first time. A number of Rhine prints, in pleasing colors, which are comparatively cheap and appropriate for primary school rooms, will form another interesting feature.

—In an advertisement in today's issue Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the Department of Streets and Wharves, invites sealed proposals for laying approximately 5,4[illegible]0 feet of storm sewer. The bids will be opened at noon November 21st.

"OLD MAIDS' CONVENTION" SOME TIME NEXT MONTH.

"The Old Maids' Convention," a humorous and entertaining play, will be given at the Boys' Brigade armory some time next month under the auspices of the Epworth League of Fifth Street Methodist Church. It is an extremely ridiculous, laughable and entertaining comedy which was given with great success by the circles of the Fifth Street church three years ago. It met with such genuine success the first night it was presented that the public asked for a second exhibition! it was accordingly repeated to a second large audience. The Epworth League of the church has voted to give a third presentation, and promises that it shall be as ludicrous and highly entertaining as before. The affaira is now in charge of the same workers who were responsible for the excellent presentation and success three years ago. The principal committee is composed of the following: Mrs. W. A. McGowan, chairman; Mrs. M. J. Fowler and Mrs. R. A. Montgomery. These ladies from their previous experience are able to make the entertainment even better than before, if such is possible. They hope to secure the same talent that they obtained on the previous presentation of the "convention, with the exception of one or two persons, who are not now in the city, but whose places will be taken by competent actors. The entertainment will be given in the Boys' Brigade auditorium and tickets will be on sale in a few days at W. R. Dosher's, No. 219 North Front street.

WOOTTEN-JAMES NUPTIALS AT BILOXI, MISSISSIPPI.

Friends in this city of Mr. Edward Yonge Wootten, who, with his bride, is visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Wotten, in this city, for a few days, will read with interest the following account of his marriage at Biloxi, Miss., on the evening of November 8th, taken from a Biloxi paper of the 9th:

"One of the brilliant social events of the season was culminated last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer, when Edward Yonge Wootten, of Greenville, S. C., and Miss Ruth James, of this city, were married by Rev. C. B. Crawford.

"The picturesque little church was resplendent with light and floral decorations. Placed as it is on the beach among moss-grown oaks, with evergreen vines clinging to its sides, the Church of the Redeemer presents a most romantic aspect and no lovelier place could have been chosen for such an occasion.

"The choir of the church sang a processional just before the bridal party entered, after which a wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Marceline Pelaez, to which the bridal party entered, approaching the chancel rail where the bridegroom with his best man, R. E. Barnwell, of Greenville, S. C., awaited the coming of his bride, who never looked more lovely, gowned in a princess lace over messaline, trimmed with hand embroidery, wearing a veil caught with orange blossoms in cap effect. She entered on the arm of her father, Harry James.

"Miss Leila James, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and showed her brunette beauty to perfection in a gown of yellow chiffon over messaline, carrying yellow chrysanthemums tied with yellow tulle.

"The bridesmaids, Misses Elsa Hatlestad and Hettie James, were pictures of girlish loveliness, gowned in white d'esprite over yellow silk, trimmed in flowers, each carrying yellow chrysanthemums tied with yellow tulle.

"Edward Buckner, of Chicago, and Hugh Wilkinson, of New Orleans, were the groomsmen. VanBuren Harris, of New Orleans, a cousin of the bride, and Edward James, her brother, were ushers.

"During the signing of the register Miss Pelaez played softly on the organ.

"After the ceremony a reception was tendered the bridal party and the immediate relatives at the home of Miss R. L. M. Nixon, on East Howard avenue.

"Mr. and Mrs. Wootten left on the 8:25 train last night for Mobile and from there on to New York, after which they will make their home in Greenville.

"The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Harry James, of this city. She has for several years been a teacher in the public schools of this city, and her loss from school and social circles will be keenly felt. She possesses a charming manner and sweet disposition and makes friends wherever she goes.

"The groom is a prominent young business man of Greenville.

"The Herald extends congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple.

"Mr. Buckner entertained the bridal party at luncheon yesterday at the Great Southern Hotel in Gulfport."

His Brother Injured

Mr. Frank King, of this city, returned last night from Charlotte, N. C., in response to a telegram stating that his brother, Mr. Charley King, of Lumberton, N. C., 27 years old, had been injured in a fall of nearly 60 feet from the Catawba River Bridge construction on which he was employed by the American Bridge Co., at Mt. Holly, N. C. Young Mr. King fell head-long with an oak cross-tie in his arms and the wonder is that he was not instantly killed. However, he was removed at once to a Charlotte hospital and yesterday afternoon when Mr. Frank King left him, he was doing well and will probably recover.

ARRESTED ON SAME OLD CHARGE

Officers Think Barney Lear a Kleptomaniac—Admits Larceny.

Barney Lear, alias Frank Lear, a white man, was arrested last night at the foot of Market street, by Patrolman W. R. Applebury and Deputy Sheriffs Kelly and Horne, after the officers had been engaged in the search for him all day, on a warrant charging him with larceny.

When taken to police headquarters, Lear admitted to the officers that he was the man they wanted, and he also owned up to many of the petty larcenies that have puzzled the police lately. Lear came off the county roads only a few months ago, after serving a sentence of several years for larceny and he seems to be a kleptomaniac. He promised that this morning he will tell the officers where much of the loot is located.

The officers first got their clew when Lear took a valuable shotgun that he had stolen from Dr. Harllee Bellamy to the Market Street Pawnshop. The proprietor was not present and the clerk on duty took the gun. When the proprietor came in, he learned of the transaction and, suspecting that the gun had been stolen, he reported it to the officers. A short while later Dr. Harllee Bellamy reported that he had missed his gun. The clerk gave the officers a good description of the man, and they managed to locate him.

Lear also admitted having stolen an overcoat from Mr. L. E. Hall's residence, No. 711 Dock street, and another from Mr. Demetre G. Vafiadi, No. 5 North Ninth street.

He will probably be given a hearing in the Recorder's Court this morning and if probable cause is found will be held for trial at the next term of Superior Court.

Funeral of Mr. J. J. Dicksey.

The funeral of Mr. J. J. Dicksey, who passed away at his home, No. 2 Dawson street, Saturday morning at an early hour, was held from the late residence Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, conducted the services, and interment was made in Bellevue cemetery. Aside from a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives, the services were attended by Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, of which organization Mr. Dicksey was a member.

REGRET HIS DEPARTURE.

Wilson Became Very Much Attached to Dr. Karl Moench.

Many in Wilmington who have had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Karl Moench since his arrival here a week ago from Wilson to take up his permanent residence in this city, will read with interest the following from the Wilson Times:

"The many friends of Dr. Karl Moench will regret to learn that he has left Wilson and located in Wilmington.

"The doctor is a wonderfully learned man. He was educated at Leipsic and has taught in several of the leading colleges of America. During the Summer Dr. Moench was employed by the Norfolk Southern Railroad to advertise the wonderful resources of eastern North Carolina and this he did most effectively.

"His work will undoubtedly bear much fruit in the years to come. It is probably the first direct, effective work to acquaint the people of Europe with the South. Western railroads have done a great deal of this work, hence the tide of emigration rolls westward. It will some day start Southward whenever the people are informed of the wonderful possibilities in the South.

"Our people will wish Dr. Moench well in his new home."

Dr. Moench is a language professor of note and began his first class in Wilmington yesterday. Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock he addressed a large gathering of young men at the Bijou Theatre under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., having as his subject, "Practical Christianity and Personal Reminiscences." He was heard with great interest. Dr. Moench says that he feels quite at home in Wilmington and is delighted with the outlook for pupils desiring instruction in different languages.

NIGHT SCHOOL FOR BOYS

Will Be Started at Y. M. C. A.--Dr. Moench to Be Teacher

Last night at 8 o'clock a number of young men interested in the proposed courses that have been outlined for the Y. M. C. A. night school, met in the parlors of the association to further consider the plans. Dr. Moench, a language professor of note and withal a most pleasing gentleman, will have charge of the school and other competent teachers will be secured as the demand is made for teachers of commercial courses. The plan is to conduct two classes, one on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights and the other on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Already a large number have enrolled for the classes. Dr. Moench is prepared to take a number of pupils in French, German or Spanish and to coach in Latin and Greek during the day. Applications can be made at the association offices.

Married Sunday Evening.

A marriage of interest to many friends was celebrated at the home of Mr. M. M. Tippetts, No. 207 Queen street, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, when Miss Mattie Elizabeth Barber, daughter of Mrs. Fannie C. Barber, of Chatham county, became the bride of Mr. Lott W. Brown. Elder C. T. Green performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends of the couple. Mr. Brown is employed on one of the government boats at work in the river at this point and his bride is a popular young lady. They will reside in this city.

Bible Study Class Meeting—Observance of Week of Prayer

Last night the activities of the Y. M. C. A. were especially noticeable. The Fellowship Supper and Bible Class was well attended and the class work especially interesting. At the close of the supper period, Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure read the special prayer topic for the day as outlined by the International Committee and special prayer was offered for the work.

Today the special prayer topic will be "Thanksgiving for the rapidly growing interest in the study of the Scriptures by boys and men; for the new methods of study, courses and literature; for the practical expression of this interest in Bible Study in altrulistic service; prayer for teachers and members of classes; for the International Sunday School Association; more trained teachers, finer cooperation; for young men of South America."

Suit Against Tidewater

Suit was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by Mr. J. F. Meares against the Tidewater Power Company. REACTION IN COTTON MARKET

Follows Sharp Early Advance—The Market Opened Firm — Bad Weather More Likely to Hurt Grade

New York, November 13.—A sharp early advance on reports of bad weather in the South was followed by a reaction in the cotton market today, and while the final tone was steady, closing prices were net unchanged to four points lower, near months being unchanged and later deliveries from one to four points under the final figures of Saturday.

The market opened firm at an advance of 7@10 points in response to higher cables than expected and that reports that severe storms in the South on Saturday and Sunday had been followed by the coldest weather of the season, with temperatures this morning below the freezing point at many stations in the belt. There was active covering as well as moderate trade buying, and a renewal of the bull support noted last week, but offerings were very heavy, the official forecasts were for rising temperatures and after fluctuating irregularly round the opening figures during the morning the market gradually turned easier.

The feeling in local circles appeared to be that the bad weather in the South was more likely to hurt the grade and to interfere with the movement and ginning, than to actually curtail the crop, and while the near-month shorts were very uneasy during the early trading, the appearance of Southern selling orders around the ring as soon as the wire service began to improve, was evidently reassuring and helped the decline during the afternoon. Probably part of the early buying was inspired by an apprehension that the talk of a large proportion of low grade cotton in the crop would lead to a revision of differences at the meeting of the New York committee on Wednesday, which would make it more difficult to tender cotton on contract, and December deliveries were relatively firm, both on the early advance and the subsequent reaction. Rumors of easier interior spot market seemed to contribute to the weakness in the afternoon, but the reaction seemed chiefly the result of Southern selling here in connection with realizing or liquidation by early buyers who were probably diappointed that the bad weather reports had not created a more general or a more aggressive buying movement.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, November 23.—The cotton goods market is irregular, but many small sales are being made steadily at concessions in prices. There has been considerable business done in a quiet way on colored domestics for delivery through February. Cooler weather has stimulated trading in heavy men's wear and general dry goods lines.

Saved Many from Death

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c. or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

HEAVY LEAD IN STOCKS

Harriman Stocks Weakest of Important Real Issues—Copper Group Made No Response to Advance in Prices.

New York, November 13.—Profit-taking sales gave the stock market a heavy lead today. Quotations wavered in an uncertain way and recessions in most did not exceed a point. The Harriman stocks were weakest of the important real issues, Union Pacific being set back more than two points. In the Industrial division the Copper group, United States Steel, American Telephone and American Tobacco, preferred, were weakest. The losses were insignificant by comparison with the large gains made recently, and seemed to result largely from the fact that the bull party lacked the aggressive leadership that it has had. There were no occurrences of sufficient importance to effect a material change in speculative opinion.

The bear traders, after a fortnight of severe reverses, resumed operations in a moderate way, and it was apparent that part of the pressure in the last hour of trading, when the market was weakest, was due to short selling. Realizing, however, was a more important factor and the pressure of long stocks at times was insistent enough to suggest that the buying movement had been overdone in some sections of the market.

The list was without its strong spots. The coalers were again conspicuously strong, the Hill stocks showed good advances until late in the day, Consolidated Gas advanced more than three points and several of the inactive industrials rose from 1 to 3 points. The advance of the coalers was to a repetition of the reports of probable "extras" for the stockholders, possibly as a result of separation of coal holdings from the roads.

Weakness of the Harriman stocks was referred to the Supreme Court decision holding the Southern Pacific liable for certain taxes claimed by the State of Kentucky, its corporate home. The effect of the decision, however, was not expected to be wide, and the incident served chiefly as an argument for selling. The Copper group made no response to an advance in the price of metal from 12½ cents to 12¾ cents by some of the largest producing and selling agencies.

The money market here continued comparatively sluggish.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,619,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales today, 799,300 shares.

Bad Blood.

Mr. C. J. Christian, of Americus, Ga., had serious blood trouble. Of his experience he writes: "My blood got wrong. Every little scratch made a bad sore. I had little risings or boils on my neck, and used several dollars worth of salves of different kinds without relief, receiving no benefit. Mr. Blanchard, of the twice-a-week Press of this city, recommended K. E. B. P. I used two bottles and am well—sores and boils all gone, only a few scars being left on my neck and hands to show how much I suffered. I cheerfully recommend K. E. B. BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Wilmington Readers Have This Experience

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains;

Urinary troubles set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Wilmington people tell you how they act.

Joseph C. Vereen, 320 S. Sixth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "Some time ago I strained myself while lifting and soon after my back became very lame and sore. I could not stoop without having sharp pains shoot through my body. My kidneys also bothered me and I had a constant desire to pass the kidney secretions particularly at night. I could get nothing that would relieve me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Robt. Bellamy's Drug Store. The use of two boxes stopped the pains in my back and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. I am very willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

PLANS FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Enthusiastic Meeting of Southport Chamber of Commerce Last Night. Warships to Participate in the Affair.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Southport, Nov. 13.—An enthusiastic meeting of the general committee of the Southport Chamber of Commerce was held this evening in the Court House at which some of the final details of the big railroad celebration to be held on November 23rd, were discussed.

Mr. E. H. Cranmer, who has been elected to succeed Mr. R. C. Cool as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, made an exhaustive report on the arrangements that have been perfected for the celebration. A number of telegrams and letters were read from many of those who have been invited to attend, and the majority heard from have accepted.

United States Senators Simmons and Overman have each signified their intention of attending and each is urging the Secretary of the Navy to be present, as well as to send a number of naval vessels to participate in the celebration. It is now a certainty that several warships will be present to add much to the scope of the occasion. The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized Collector of the Port B. F. Keith to permit the United States revenue cutter Seminole to attend the celebration and Capt. John G. Berry has stated that the cutter will do everything in its power to add to the success of the affair.

Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, president of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad, will be master of ceremonies at the exercises to be held in the prove and Sergeant J. J. Garrett will preside over the field sports. Mr. E. N. Willis will supervise the motor boat parade, and 'Squire W. T. Pinner has been given complete charge of the barbecue, a feature that will be distinct in itself.

The 'Squire has received several offers of fine beeves and has promised an old fashioned barbecue roasted over hickory chips.

Nothing will be spared to make November 23rd the biggest day in the history of Brunswick county and on that day will be opened the port of Southport. An official announcement of 26 feet of water at low tide in the channel has been made by the engineering department of the government after a careful sounding which was completed last week.

The entire population of Brunswick county is preparing to journey to the county seat and participate in the ceremonies celebrating the awakening of what they feel confident will soon be the chief port on the South Atlantic coast.

SPORTSMEN ARE COMING SOUTH

Will Shoot Quail in Piedmont—Attempt to Break Jail

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 13.—Sportsmen from other sections in search of the elusive quail have already begun to arrive in Guilford county—or are pasing through here en route to other bird grounds—for the opening of the season. Incidentally there is a new order of things this year. The hunter's dog or dogs is or are no longer hauled "in the car ahead" free of charge. This was indicated yesterday afternoon when a fine setter belonging to a sportsman from the western section was unloaded. He was housed. Formerly dogs went along with their masters free of charge. They were either held by string or tied in the baggage car. That time has passed. It is learned in railroad circles that this year and hereafter dogs must travel as so much express. They must be caged and must be handled just as any other express is handled. Just what brought about this ruling minor officials of the Southern Railway do not know. It is said to be a fact, however, that practically all the railroads of the country are agreed upon the subject matter and that during this season and future seasons the pointers and the setters en route to bird grounds will become "some dog" and pay fare—rather their masters will pay it for them.

Interest in Greensboro and this section of the Piedmont is already keen in anticipation of the great Thanksgiving game of football between the University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia at Richmond Thanksgiving day, and in order to accommodate the crowd that has already indicated an intention of being present at the game, the Southern Railway has arranged to operate a special train from Charlotte to Richmond, taking on the football enthusiasts from Greensboro when the train passes through this city. It is probable, however, that the regular trains will be crowded with Greensboro enthusiasts in addition to the crowds that will go on the special. In football circles the chief topic of conversation has to do with the Virginia-Carolina game and it is said that already some handsome wagers have been laid on the outcome of the game

News has reached here to the effect that Morris Watt, a native of Mecklenburg county, came near sawing his way out of the Montgomery county jail at Troy Saturday. He had sawed his way through the steel cage and was industriously at work on the outside bars when his operations were discovered. The saw was taken from him and he was replaced in another cell. Watts declared to the jailer that he got the saw while in the Mecklenburg jail; that he carried it with him to Troy and selecting what he conceived to be an opportune moment, was using it. Watts is charged with housebreaking.

WILL BE HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Edgar Thompson, Alleged Wife Poisoner, is Held Pending Analysis of Dead Wife's Stomach—Signs of Poisoning.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 13.—Edgar Thompson, who was carried to Lumberton Saturday afternoon to appear before Judge Carter, was given a hearing by the judge on his arrival in Lumberton Saturday evening, and was ordered by the judge to be committed to jail without bail, until the analysis of the wife's stomach is received by the court. He spent Saturday night in the Lumberton jail and was yesterday brought back here and placed in jail, being confined in the same cell with Grainger, who recently was convicted of murder. Thompson seems very low spirited and despondent. He was brought here through the country from Lumberton in a private conveyance by Deputy Sheriff Ammons. Your correspondent is informed that bond will be refused Thompson until an analysis of the wife's stomach has been made by the State chemist. The family of the dead woman, it seems, was not satisfied with the verdict of the coroner's jury, and employed Mr. J. B. Fore, a neighbor, to carry to stomach to Raleigh that its contents might be analyzed. Mr. E. S. Lewis, foreman of the grand jury, delivered the stomach to Mr. Fore, after sealing the jar containing the stomach, and then putting the jar in a valise, locked the valise, and threw away the key. Mr. Fore says that in passing through Lumberton, he was notified to stop and see Solicitor Sinclair, who with Judge Carter asked him a number of questions. The warrant was then sworn out for the arrest of Thompson. His aged father accompanied him, with Deputy Sheriff Ammons to Lumberton, or at least, the three left Whiteville together; also Col. J. B. Schulken, who is one of the lawyers employed to represent Thompson.

Dr. W. H. Crowell, an eminent physician of our town, who saw Mrs. Thompson, stated after the inquest that while he would not so charge, there were evidences that the woman might have met her death through poison. The attorneys and friends of Edgar Thompson are confident that he will be vindicated and that an analysis of the contents of the stomach will show that the woman came to her death from natural causes. It is understood that the analysis by the State chemist will not be made public until our next term of court, which convenes on the 27th of this month.

Col. D. J. Lewis, one of the lawyers employed by the family of Edgar Thompson, says the prisoner is entitled to a preliminary hearing, and which it is presumed his counsel will insist on. An uncle of Mrs. Edgar Thompson stated on the streets of Whiteville last Saturday that it was a mistake about the family not demanding a post mortem examination before burial, and that it was suggested by them, when a relative of Edgar Thompson replied that the body would be buried, and then if the Bowens wanted to swear out a warrant against any one they were at liberty to do so.

RICHESON'S TRIAL IN JANUARY.

This Date Was Set Yesterday When He Was Arraigned.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 13.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson will be placed on trial on the charge of murdering Miss Avis Linnell on January 15th, 1912. This date was set late today when Richeson was arraigned.

Without emotion and in a clear voice the preacher pleaded "Not guilty". He was then returned to the Charles street jail to await the trial.

The date of January 15th, proposed by District Attorney Pelletier, was strenuously opposed by W. A. Morse, the pastor's counsel. He declared that the defendant's counsel had not been able to hold a single meeting and asked a continuance of six months.

Mr. Morse said that John L. Lee, of Lynchburg, Va., who is to be the chief counsel for the defendant, would be unable to meet the other lawyers until the latter part of this month at the earliest. Considering that Mr. Lee represents the accused man's family, he felt that the counsel should confer before the date of the trial was set.

District Attorney Pelletier urged an early trial and Judge Sanderson, who presided, sided with him. In fixing January 15th as the date the court said that two months was ample time for the defense to prepare its case.

Escorted by the court officer, the accused minister came into court today appearing calm and confident. His month in jail had affected him but little. He showed no signs of nervousness and his plea of "not guilty" could be heard distinctly in all parts of the room.

WHITEVILLE NOTES

Deer and "Tigers" Plentiful in Columbus—Senatorial Chit-Chat

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 13.—Last week two deer were caught in a lot at Lake Waccamaw where they took refuge after a long pursuit by dogs. Another deer was caught by dogs in the town of Wananish.

Saturday evening Mrs. W. R. McRackan entertained a few friends at her hospitable home in Vineland in honor of a very attractive young woman, Miss Flora Aycock, of Freemont, who is the guest of her brother, Mr. W. T. Aycock. Mrs. McRackan was assisted in entertaining by the Misses Russell and Miss Jones. The evening was an informal but delightful affair in every particular.

A prominent gentleman of our county offered the other day to bet two to one that Senator Simmons would carry Columbus county, by at least a two-third vote over all the other candidates. But ex-Governor Aycock and Gov. Kitchin each have strong supporters in our county and they are at work too. Judge Clark doubtless has friends also, but you never hear his name mentioned.

With the advent of cold weather the moonshiners are again active and the officers have reported several illicit stills which they are preparing to raid. You can see on every hand signs of that rum made from sweet molasses.

NATURE'S CURE FOR CHRONIC ULCERS

Only by removing the cause can any chronic Ulcer or Old Sore be cured. No one will question the truthfulness of this statement. The cause is always from an inward source, never an outward influence, and therefore the only possible way to get rid of these places is to take internal treatment. Pure blood is the one unfailing cure for chronic ulcers; just as long as the circulation is allowed to remain in an impure condition the place will be kept open from the constant discharge of impurities into it from the blood. But pure blood will change this condition and the flesh tissues will be nourished and made healthy, and then nature will promptly and permanently heal the ulcer. S. S. S. is recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers and therein lies its power to cure old ulcers and sores. It goes into the circulation, and removes every trace of impurity or infectious matter, and so enriches this vital fluid that it nourishes all flesh tissues instead of irritating them with impurities. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood and the place has healed over it is not a surface cure, but the entire ulcer is filled in with healthy flesh. Book and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

MORRIS AND GEYER.

Bout Stopped in New York Last Night—A Fast Exhibition.

New Orleans, Nov. 13.—The bout between Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavy-weight, and Jack Geyer, of Denver, was stopped by Referee White in the ninth round tonight. Morris easily outpointed the Denver heavyweight throughout.

The ponderous Oklahoman took the scales at 235, with Geyer 30 pounds lighter. The bout was a hard, fast battle. Although Morris outpointed his man in every round except possibly the first, Geyer showed wonderful pluck, and was continually boring in, his most exective blow being a short left upper cut.

There was not a knockdown in the rounds, but frequently Morris had his man on the ropes, in the rushes—for the ring was but 17 feet square—but the Denver man showed his gameness by fighting hard after his left eye had been closed. The referee stopped the bout in the ninth, to save him from further beating.

The general verdict was that Geyer was not outgamed, but wholly outclassed.

After two minutes of fighting in the opening round, Hayes floored the Californian with a right to the jaw.

Burns was on his feet in a second. The bout was speedy from start to finish, both boys were fast and strong and apparently eager. After the knock down in the first round, both confined themselves to in-fighting until the fifth. In the eighth Hayes injured Burns' ear with hard right swings. In the ninth Burns fought furiously. He kept Hayes busy protecting himself, landing frequently in the middle section. Just as the gong sounded, Hayes almost caught Burns off his balance with a terrific swing to the head. Burns wavered but caught himself in time for the minute's rest. Both were tiring in the tenth, fighting furiously but wildly.

WESTERN N. C. CONFERENCE.

Adjourned Yesterday Afternoon at Statesville—The Appointments.

Statesville, N. C., Nov. 13.—The Western North Carolina Conference adjourned this afternoon. It increased the educational assessment $500, appointed a committee on evangelism, and urged pastors to make every service evangelistic. The temperance report provoked considerable discussion. An amendment was adopted, requesting daily papers now publishing whiskey advertisements to eliminate same at the expiration of present contracts. The Presiding Elders appointed are the same as last year, except the following: Winston district, Plato T. Durham; Statesville district, L. T. Mann; Waynesville district, L. T. Cordell; First Churches, Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro, the same; Trinity, Charlotte, T. F. Marr; Century, Winston-Salem, L. L. Bain; Salisbury, J. W. Moore. There were fewer changes than expected in the appointments. The conference was pleased with Bishop Hoss, the presiding officer.

Reports showed that within the dominion of the conference there were 96,000 members, a gain of 3,000 in the year; church property approximating $2,000,000 and college property of nearly a like amount.
